

ASSET INFORMATION

Just because you are filling for bankruptcy does not mean that you will automatically lose everything you own. You are entitled to claim "exemptions," which are things that creditors cannot take from you. You must be honest with the Court and include a list of all your assets in the Petition. You can expect significant problems with your case if you are not completely honest about all your assets.

You must value your assets at "replacement value." Replacement value is defined in the Bankruptcy Code as the price that a retail merchant would charge for property of the same kind, considering the age and condition of the property at the time its value is determined. This is not the cost to replace the item with a new one or what you could sell the item for; it is the cost that a retail merchant would sell the used item in its current condition for. In many cases (particularly used clothing, furniture, computers, etc.) this would be yard sale value, or what the item would sell for on eBay. In other cases, such as jewelry, antiques, or collectables, it may be retail value. For motor vehicles, it would be the third-party purchase value. For real property, it is what the real property would sell for, at current Market value. For cash and bank accounts, it is the actual amount on deposit. For stocks and bonds, it is their market value as of the date your case is filed. You must make a reasonable inquiry to determine the "replacement value" of your assets.
